

Program Report: Awareness and Routine Immunization Session on the occasion of Raksha Bandhan in Patrakar Colony, Manyawas

Prepared by: DHARA Sansthan

Introduction:

The following report outlines the awareness and immunization campaign conducted in Patrakar Colony, Manyavas on 29th August, 2023. The survey conducted in Patrakar Colony, Manyavas revealed significant challenges in terms of living conditions and healthcare awareness among the residents, most of whom had migrated from various parts of Rajasthan. This report outlines the awareness and immunization program organized on August 29th, 2023, with the aim of addressing these challenges and promoting routine immunization (RI) among the community members. The report describes the key activities, participants, and outcomes of the event.

Survey Findings:

During the preliminary survey conducted in Patrakar Colony, Manyavas, it was observed that a significant population was living in the basti without access to basic amenities. The residents were primarily migrants from various parts of Rajasthan. A notable concern was the lack of awareness and reluctance among parents regarding vaccinations. Some families were uninformed about vaccinations, while others held misconceptions and myths surrounding vaccines. As a result, a considerable number of children had either not completed their vaccination or hadn't received any vaccines at all.

Program Details:

After considering these issues in the area, DHARA team organized a program on the occasion of Rakshabandhan, to conduct awareness and vaccination session on 29th August.

- Invited Guests:

1. Ms. Pushpa Choudhary, Reproductive and Health child officer (RCHO)
2. Dr. Aditya Bagra, Medical officer in charge (MOIC)
3. Mr. Deveshwar, District ASHA Coordinator

Venue: Patrakar Colony, Manyawas

Date: 29th August, 2023

Event Overview:

The program was carefully structured to tackle the prevailing issues while ensuring active participation from both the community members and esteemed guests. It aimed to not only dispel vaccine-related myths but also provide a platform for routine immunization services.

Event Proceedings:

1. Introductory Speech:

The program commenced with an impactful speech delivered by Jabra Ram. He eloquently explained the importance of vaccinations, citing relatable examples to underline the significance of timely vaccination. Jabra Ram highlighted that a complete vaccination schedule contributes to the overall health and mental well-being of children. He also addressed the misconception about bloated stomachs in children and elucidated the necessary vaccines for children's health. The interactive session included questions, and those who answered correctly were rewarded, fostering engagement and knowledge-sharing.

2. Folk Songs and Puppet Show:

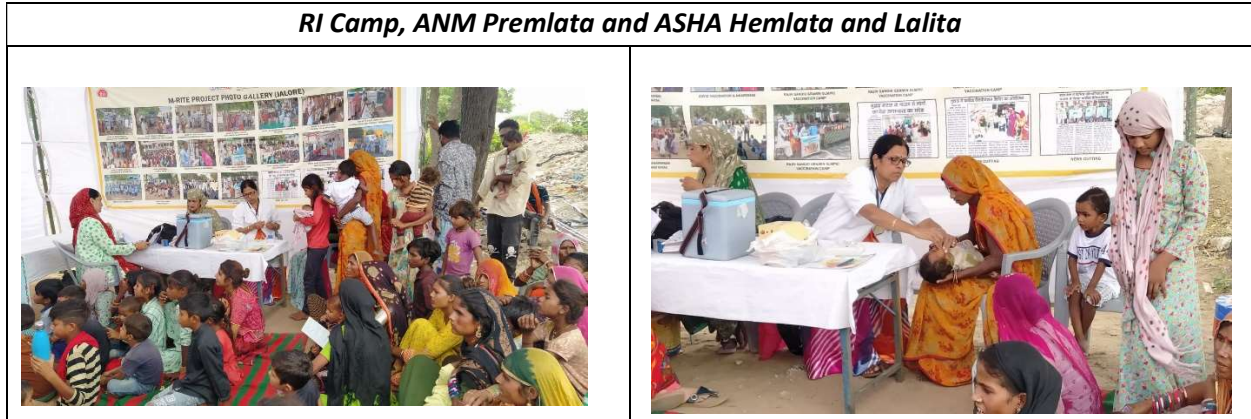

Jamal Ji and his team from Barmer used folk songs and a puppet show to share important information in a fun way. The way they talked was easy to understand for everyone. The show was connected to the culture of the community, so people could easily get what was being said. This creative idea helped them tell people about regular vaccination to stay healthy and clear up any wrong ideas about vaccines.

3. ANM and ASHA Outreach:

ANM Ms. Premlata Jain, ASHA Ms. Hemlata and Ms. Lalitha played a pivotal role in interacting with the community members. They offered valuable insights into the significance of vaccinating children and provided immunization services to those who had not been vaccinated. The team made MAMTA cards of children who were left out of vaccination. They also informed the attendees about forthcoming vaccination camps, encouraging parents to ensure the regular vaccination of their children. In the program, 25 children have been vaccinated, and 6 of them were due children.

4. Competitions:

The program included engaging competitions such as Mehandi, Rakhi, and Healthy Baby contests. These activities not only entertained but also served as platforms for raising awareness about health-related topics. The winners, selected by the guests, were awarded prizes, fostering a sense of achievement and participation. Children who had been fully vaccinated and had a Mamta card, those 10 children were rewarded with a dress as a prize.

5. Interaction with Health Officials:

Ms. Pushpa Choudhary, Dr. Aditya Bagra, and Mr. Deveshwar actively participated in the event. They documented the number of zero doses and vaccinated children, receiving reports from ANM Premalata Jain and the DHARA team. The presence of health officials added credibility to the initiative, and they engaged with the attendees, addressing concerns and pledging immediate action on community issues. The interactions with parents and children illustrated the commitment of the healthcare system to the welfare of the community.

Conclusion:

The program concluded with a vote of thanks, expressing gratitude to all participants, guests, and organizers. The event not only disseminated valuable health information but also encouraged a positive shift in the community's perspective towards vaccination.
